Previous tone of voice for Kidovation:
We value creativity, empathy, collaboration, technology and social causes.

Our brand personality is disruptive, fun, comprehensive, personalised and very friendly.

We want to be a visually modern brand that is pushing the boundaries of technology to deliver innovative and fun experiences to young people.

To convey this best, we want to make sure in all our communications, we look and sound:
• playful
• encouraging
• inclusive
• upbeat (yet professional)

Our main brand colours are shades of primary colours - limegreen, blue and pink. These are bright and vibrant and form the basis of tints and shades used in our illustrations.

Previous tone of voice for Future Labs (Academy of experience):

Our brand is human-centred and diverse, characterised by illustrative imagery from Humaaans, an open-source illustration library by Pablo Stanley that is free for commercial use.

Our brand exists to ignite creativity and confidence. We are diverse, seek growth and are creative and are outgoing, authentic and relatable in personality.

To convey this best, we want to make sure in all our communications, we look and sound
• Clear
• Empowering
• Inclusive
• Practical (yet fun!)

Our main brand colours are shades of primary colours - red, yellow and blue. These are bright and vibrant and form the basis of tints and shades used in our illustrations.
